

The Zodiac Signs on the House Cusps

The house where you find Aries on the cusp is where you may need to initiate action and act with courage, where you want to make an impact, where you should trust your instincts and assert your independence.

The house where you find Taurus on the cusp is where you need to express your natural creative talents, understand value and worth, and have prosperity consciousness. This is also where you may seek emotional and financial security or need to develop self-esteem.

The house where you find Gemini on the cusp is where you need to learn and use verbal or communication skills, value information and seek variety and intellectual challenge. It's where you may have more than one, and where you may lack stamina to finish what you start.

The house where you find Cancer on the cusp is where you will be sensitive, protective, nurturing and helpful, and where you have trouble letting go. Where you seek security, may be sentimental and nostalgic, and use your intuition.

The house where you find Leo on the cusp is where your ego and pride shine, where you want to be looked up to and be recognized, need applause, and where you may find notoriety or acclaim.

The house where you find Virgo on the cusp is where you strive for perfection, order and routine. Where you offer service to the common man, pay attention to detail, and can be narrow in focus, overly critical or have impossible standards.

The house where you find Libra on the cusp is where you exhibit grace, cooperation and act harmoniously, use tact and diplomacy, pass judgment, sit on the fence, make sacrifices for peace.

The house where you find Scorpio on the cusp is where you internalize and seek deep meaning. It is also where you use enterprising skill, merge with others and master your environment through manipulation or control.

The house where you find Sagittarius on the cusp is where you are optimistic and broadminded. This is where you express your intelligence, mutability, and sense of humor. Seek freedom and truth, teacher or student who never stops learning, over-achiever.

The house where you find Capricorn on the cusp is where you may need to prove yourself, where you may need to use self-discipline, patience, persistence to achieve your goals. Take responsibilities seriously, feel limited or restricted or burdened.

The house where you find Aquarius on the cusp is where you may rebel, go your own way or exhibit individuality and independence. Needs space, but needs a secure base to return to. An area where you are group-oriented and unique, but find commitment difficult.

The house where you find Pisces on the cusp is where you may make sacrifices, may not have good boundaries, seem gullible or empathetic to others. It may also be where you express artistry and imagination. Idealistic, or unrealistic.